

NEW YORK'S LIBERTY LOAN TOTAL NEARING BILLION MARK

pose for which it has seen men—its own men—die on every battlefield upon which Americans have borne arms since the Revolution?

"These are questions which must be answered. We are Americans. We in our turn serve America, and can serve her with no private purpose. We must use her flag as she has always used it. We are accountable at the bar of history and must plead in utter frankness what purpose it is we seek to serve.

"It is plain enough how we were forced into the war. The extraordinary insults and aggressions of the Imperial German Government left us no self-respecting choice but to take up arms in defense of our rights as a free people and of our honor as a sovereign Government.

"The military masters of Germany denied us the right to be neutral. They filled our unsuspecting communities with vicious spies and conspirators and sought to corrupt the opinion of our people in their own behalf. When they found that they could not do that, their agents diligently spread sedition among us and sought to draw our own citizens from their allegiance—and some of these agents were men who had been in the official employ of the German Government itself here in our own capital.

"They sought by violence to destroy our industries and arrest our commerce. They tried to incite Mexico to take up arms against us and to draw Japan into a hostile alliance with her—and that, not by indirectness, but by direct suggestion from the Foreign Office in Berlin.

"They impudently denied us the use of the high seas and repeatedly executed their threat that they would send to their death any of our people who ventured to approach the coasts of Europe. And many of our own people were corrupted. Men began to look upon their own neighbors with suspicion and to wonder in their hot resentment and surprise whether there was any community in which hostile intrigue did not lurk.

"WE DESIRED PEACE, BUT IT WAS DENIED US."

What great nation in such circumstances would not have taken up arms? Much as we had desired peace, it was denied us, and our own choice. This did not originate with us. It was the choice of our enemies. They did not originate with us. It was the choice of our enemies. They did not originate with us. It was the choice of our enemies.

"But that is only part of the story. We know now as clearly as we know before we were ourselves engaged that we are not the enemies of the German people and that they are not our enemies. They did not originate with us. It was the choice of our enemies. They did not originate with us. It was the choice of our enemies.

"They are themselves in the grip of the same sinister power that has now at last stretched its ugly talons out and drawn blood from us. The whole world is at war because the whole world is in the grip of the same sinister power that has now at last stretched its ugly talons out and drawn blood from us. The whole world is at war because the whole world is in the grip of the same sinister power that has now at last stretched its ugly talons out and drawn blood from us.

"The war was begun by the military masters of Germany, who proved to be also the masters of Austria-Hungary. These men have never regarded nations as peoples, men, women and children of like blood and frame as themselves, for whom governments existed and in whom governments had their life. They have regarded them merely as serviceable organizations which they could by force or intrigue bend or convert to their own purposes. They have regarded the smaller States, in particular, and the peoples who could be overwhelmed by force, as their natural tools and instruments of domination.

GIRL WON BANKER OF 85 AT CARDS, IS LOVE SUIT DEFENSE

O'Brien-Manning Romance the Result of Jestling Wager, - Says Counsel.

The trail of the $1,000,000 breach of promise suit brought by Miss Honora May O'Brien, the Skibbereen beauty, against John H. Manning, the aged Wall Street banker, who, she says, flitted her over the telephone last December a few hours before they were to have been married in St. Patrick's Cathedral, got away to a flying start before Justice Cropper, a jury and a jam of spectators in the Supreme Court at Long Island City this afternoon.

Martin W. Littleton, counsel for Manning, said he would prove that Miss O'Brien won her client at a card game as a result of a jestling wager made between them.

Mr. Littleton, who had Miss O'Brien in tears by his charge that she was involved in a conspiracy to get the old man's money, and her brother at the bidding point by referring to him frequently as "this hawminger from Newport"—O'Brien keeps a fish shop at the latter place—said Miss O'Brien and her eighty-five-year-old Romeo were playing euchre at the banker's home in Riverside Drive on the night in question.

"When it came time to 'play the last game,' said Mr. Littleton, 'Mr. Manning said jokingly: 'Now we'll play to see whether I win you or you win me.' Miss O'Brien won.

Mr. Littleton was merciless in his denunciation of the O'Briens. He said the whole affair was "shot to the core with sordidness" and as "burden of affection and romance as the plains in the wilds of Asia are barren of vegetation." He spoke of the pre-nuptial agreement, which, it appears, will be a big factor in the trial.

"A pre-nuptial agreement, gentlemen," said Mr. Littleton, "is something by which you get hooked, and hooked good."

Stephen C. Baldwin, counsel for Miss O'Brien, who opened the case, used an entirely different line of colors in painting the romance for the jury, referring to it as a pure, tender affair in which a lonely old man had fallen in love with a sweet girl. He characterized Manning as one of "the keenest men in Wall Street" and insisted he should be made to pay for the manner in which he had treated his client.

"We will prove that Manning is worth from $1,000,000 to $20,000,000," said Mr. Baldwin, "and—"

A cracked laugh in a high-pitched voice came from Manning before the lawyer could finish the sentence.

"You can laugh, you can leer," said Baldwin, "but we will not only show you are worth that much, but will show a great many more things."

Mr. Littleton sketched the acquaintance of Miss O'Brien and Manning. He said it dated from 1907, when Miss O'Brien came to this country and met the banker's family. From 1909 until 1916, said the lawyer, the Manning family saw nothing of Miss O'Brien. In November of last, Mr. Littleton said, Miss O'Brien and her brother visited the Manning home and made arrangements to borrow some money from the banker to be used by her brother in his business.

Miss O'Brien and her relatives assert Manning met her years ago on his visits to Skibbereen, Ireland, and that the families have always been on close terms. A great many witnesses, some from Ireland, are to be examined.

Miss O'Brien went on the witness stand after a clerk from the marriage bureau had testified to issuing a license to her and Manning. While she was testifying the thunder storm broke, the flashes of lightning driving many of the women spectators from the room, while for a while was in darkness. Miss O'Brien said she was educated in convents in Ireland and Belgium, and had come to this country in 1906 to enter a nunnery in Idaho.

At the Cunard Line pier Miss O'Brien said the party was met by Manning and Judge Daniel F. Coahalan. Miss O'Brien is a cousin of Judge Coahalan's wife. She said the judge was forwarded to her by her brother to pay for her passage had not arrived in time and that Judge Coahalan had made good the amount to her charge, being later reimbursed by Miss O'Brien's brother. Soon after her arrival Miss O'Brien said she visited the Mannings and assumed charge of a French class which Agnes Manning, one of the banker's daughters, had organized.

Despite the banker's feebleness he showed a surprising ability when a group of photographers tried to snap him as he was leaving the court house. Crying "Clear out of that!" he charged into the group, bringing his cane down on one photographer, swinging around and striking a camera and scattering the photographers before permitting his children to lead him away.

The O'Briens and Manning clans reached the courtroom early. The counsel table divided them. So more marked contrast in the way of age has been seen heretofore loan that afforded by Miss O'Brien, twenty-eight and lovely to look at, and Manning, eighty-five, hollow-eyed, bent of shoulder, walking with the aid of a cane and stroking his chin whiskers with a shaky hand. His eyes never met but those of their followers exchanged dagger-like glances.

Miss O'Brien now lives in Ridgewood with relatives, having moved there from her boarding house in West Ninety-sixth Street after her romance went to smash.

Manning lives at No. 41 Riverside Drive. His banking offices are at No. 2 Wall Street. He is one of the most prominent Roman Catholics in the city, being a Knight of St. Gregory.
